According to the Undergraduate Announcements, plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty defined as “the intentional or unintentional copying of language, structure, or ideas of another and attributing the work to one’s own efforts” (p. 29). The catalog also states that "(w)hen, in the opinion of a faculty member, there is evidence that a student has committed an act of academic dishonesty, the faculty member shall make a formal written charge of academic dishonesty, including a description of the misconduct, to the Associate Dean of Undergraduate Studies.” (p. 29).

After meeting with the instructor, the accused student may, at their option, (1) sign this form to admit the violation and accept the penalty or (2) indicate below that they believe that the charge has been made in error, and should then contact Ms. Julia Lusk in the Office of Undergraduate Studies.

If this is the student’s first violation of the academic integrity policy, the penalty will be set as indicated in the Penalty section (page 2). The student is required to attend a Plagiarism Workshop within 90 calendar days (excluding summer semesters). Failure to do so will result in an F in the course. The office of Undergraduate Studies will be in touch with the student regarding the workshop dates.

If this is not a first offense, the student will receive an “F” in the course and be suspended in accordance with university policy.

Please note: Students may not drop a course in which they have been charged with academic dishonesty unless they are exonerated of all charges.

Students who are in violation of the academic integrity policy and receive a “D” or an “F” grade will not be allowed to forgive that grade under the Academic Forgiveness Policy. They can retake the course but both grades will be averaged into the cumulative GPA.
