

Need some extra cash?

Want a little recognition for a job well done?

Enter your digital portfolio in one or more of the new Digital Portfolio Prize categories and find out if your work is Most Creative, Most Original, Most Reflective, or Clemson's Best

THE PRIZES

MOST CREATIVE

Open to all students: $100

The Most Creative Portfolio combines the visual and the verbal together to show both how and what the student has learned.

MOST ORIGINAL

Preference given to juniors and seniors: $100.

The Most Original Portfolio shows learning through the design features of the portfolio, through the kinds of exhibits included, and through the kinds of links provided and the logic underlying them.

MOST REFLECTIVE

Preference given to juniors and seniors: $100.

The Most Reflective Portfolio shows depth of thought, makes connections across multiple experiences (both in school and out), and demonstrates perception and insight.

CLEMSON'S BEST

Preference given to seniors: $250

Clemson's Best is the portfolio that brings together creativity, originality, and reflection in a way specific to the Clemson experience.

THE DETAILS

All portfolios must be submitted in a CD by April 2. A one-page statement that explains which categories, up to 2, the student is submitting in, and how the portfolio embodies the attributes of those categories must also be submitted. Portfolios should be submitted to the Pearce Center office in 601 Strode.

Winners will be announced on April 9 and acknowledged on April 15 at a celebration bringing together Clemson alumni and the Pearce Center's Corporate Advisory Board.

All students are invited and encouraged to submit digital portfolios. Assistance with preparing portfolios for submission is available in the Class of 1941 Studio for Student Communication in Daniel. Email stdio41@clemson.edu to make an appointment.

THE SPONSORS

The Clemson Alumni Association and the Pearce Center are delighted to announce the first annual prizes for electronic portfolios.

The Roy and Marnie
Pearce Center
for Professional Communication

