MINUTES

City & Community

- Rachel Edwards has finished the fall newsletter. The CCC website has also been updated (<https://www.clemson.edu/campus-life/healthy-campus/aod/coalition.html>).
- Ain't Pattys Day – Saturday, March 10th
 - CU Water Drop
 - 3-5 cases will be dropped off at each bar on Friday. The water will be free to anyone. Water Drop will also be painting windows to notify people of free water. Riley (the president) also offered to advertise the baseball game on the windows.
 - Water drop also delivers free water to other events throughout the year by request through an online form.

 - Clemson Baseball vs. Georgia Tech @ 4 pm
 - We will not be doing a tailgate, but we have submitted a video board ad and a PSA message as an alternative.
 - Shamrockin' – Barnes Center
 - Starts around 10 pm on Saturday, March 10th. The event will include putt putt and crafts, and they will be giving away an Apple watch and an Apple TV.
 - Healthy Campus will promote alcohol safety and alternative events via social media with 3 posts throughout the week.
 - Tate reported that SLED will be working closely with Clemson City Police to monitor downtown. There are no current plans to close traffic on College Avenue. The open container ordinance will still be in effect. Additionally, the time change ("spring forward") will be happening on Saturday night, so the bar owners need to have the alcohol is off the tables at 2 am.
 - CAT Bus will be providing service every half hour from 11 am – 6 pm, then will go back to hourly service.
 - Uber provides a great service, but is providing challenges with breaking traffic laws and adding congestion to downtown. The city has considered creating specific parking spots for Uber drivers.

Clemson University

- Interfraternity Council (IFC) implemented a new policy for events held at fraternity houses, upon lifting the self-imposed ban on social events. The ban is lifted as of March 9th.
 - The new policy includes regularly reviewed risk management plans for each chapter, sober monitors, guest ratios, wrist-banding, approved guests lists, guest check-in, an emphasis on licensed security, and limits on the number of events held per semester. There will also be a tiered sanction approach to violations that will be imposed by the IFC executive board.

- Harriet-Graham will follow up with the IFC president to see if she can send a copy of the policies to Tate. Tate also requested to have advanced notice of mixers downtown and to encourage sober monitors to play a more active role in the safety of the event.
- Social host ordinance
 - Jerry Chapman brought up a discussion about the social host ordinance that is under review through City Council. In summary, the ordinance would effect that if an event gets out of control and City police must respond, the host of that party would be subject to consequences. The "host" is whoever lives there, not the landlord.
 - The ordinance passed on first reading at City Council. City Council members will meet again IFC leaders. It will go to second reading on March 19th.
 - It would still be beneficial to register your event with the City of Clemson because the warning system that's part of that registration will still be in effect.
 - Wouldn't be able to implement it until August. There would have to be a detailed and lengthy education process.
- Step Up Bystander Intervention Training will be brought to the Greek community at Clemson. A "train the trainer" 90-minute webinar will be offered by the end of the semester. All 45 chapters will then be trained in the fall. Step Up covers a variety of topics including alcohol and other drugs, sexual assault, hazing, other topics.
 - Harriet-Graham will send out a request to staff and other individuals who would like to become trainers. Trained staff will be able to use it to train other student groups. A community member session was also suggested.
- Data Collection Efforts
 - National College Health Assessment launched February 22, and has 1200 participants so far.
 - College Prescription Drug Study launches April 4 and will be sent to 5,000 students.
- 4th Annual Law Enforcement Summit – March 12. Theme: Preparing for and responding to student activism and campus protests.
