Global Politics Minor
(2013-14 Academic Year and Beyond)

*This checklist is intended as a convenient guide only. The authoritative source on curriculum requirements is Clemson University’s Undergraduate Announcements catalog for a student’s curriculum year, as interpreted by the University administration (http://www.registrar.clemson.edu/html/catalog.htm).

Global Politics Minor (18 hours)¹:

1. Introductory Course (3 hours):

   POSC 1020___ or POSC 1040__

2. POSC 3610 (International Politics in Crisis) ____

3. Upper-Level Requirements (12 hours from the list of courses below—at least three credits must be taken from Group I and three credits taken from Group II)²:

   Group I: Comparative Politics:

   POSC 3710__; 3720__; 4660__; 4710__; 4720__; 4730__; 4760__; 4770__; 4780__; (LANG) 4850__

   Group II: International Relations:

   POSC 3620__; 3630__; 3670__; 3750__; 4280__; 4290__; 4480__; 4560__; 4570__; 4590__; 4610__

¹ Students majoring in Political Science may not minor in Global Politics.

² Special Elective Courses. With the approval of the Department of Political Science, a maximum of three credits from POSC 3050 (Creative Inquiry) related to a research team project on global politics; 3110 (Model United Nations); 3130 (Clemson University Model United Nations Conference); 3820 (Spanish Language News); 3830 (French Language News); or 4100 (Directed Study in International Politics) also may be applied towards a Global Politics minor.