Clemson University Model UN Conference Information 2017

Thank you for your interest in CUMUNC 2017! We hope that you will find all of the necessary information needed to help you make your decision to come to our conference.

Cost of Attendance

Delegate Fee: $30 per Advisor Fee: $15 per

The $30 covers the basic delegate fee, however students and advisors are able to purchase a small, personalized weekend meal plan with our dining hall on campus. Students and advisors can chose how many meals they would like to have on campus, but also still have the flexibility to dine locally in Clemson. The final price breakdown in regards to the flexible meal plans is as follows:

- $70 per Student (includes 4 dining hall meals)
- $60 per Student (includes 3 dining hall meals)
- $50 per Student (includes 2 dining hall meals)
- $40 per Student (includes 1 dining hall meal)
- $30 per Student (no dining hall meals included)

Please remember that the dining hall meal plans are optional and that they are here for the convenience of your delegation. If you chose not to use the dining hall, please know that you and your delegation will be responsible for your own meals.

Hotel and Lodging

For lodging during the conference, there are many hotels surrounding Clemson that can fit your budget and are only a couple minutes away from campus. A couple of these include:

- Hotel Tillman: (864)-653-6000
- Courtyard Clemson: (864)-654-8833

If you are interested in our conference, please email me back at cumuncinfo@gmail.com and let me know how many delegates you expect to bring. Then I can send you the registration forms so we can get started. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to myself or our Model UN Advisor, Xiaobo Hu at xhu@clemson.edu.

Thank you for your interest and we can’t wait to CU in October!

Best regards,
Callahan Moore, Secretary-General
