OBJECTIVES AND OUTCOMES:

These courses, with adjustable credits, can be taken by M.S. and Ph.D. thesis graduate students to conduct independent research ultimately leading to a thesis or dissertation under the direction of a particular ECE faculty member.

MEETING TIMES AND LOCATION:

Individual times will be arranged with instructor.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Attendance at times arranged with instructor is mandatory. Students are expected to wait 10 minutes, should the professor be late.

GRADING:

Pass/fail. The instructor sets expectations for adequate progress during the semester; if these expectations are met, the student receives a passing grade.

TEXTBOOK:

No textbook is required.

DISABILITY ACCESS STATEMENT:

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should make an appointment with Dr. Margaret Camp (656-6848), Director of Disability Services, to discuss specific needs within the first month of classes. Students should present a Faculty Accommodation Letter from Student Disability Services when they meet with instructors. Accommodations are not retroactive and new Faculty Accommodation Letters must be presented each semester.

TITLE IX STATEMENT:

Clemson University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, pregnancy, national origin, age, disability, veteran's status, genetic information or protected activity (e.g., opposition to prohibited discrimination or participation in any complaint process, etc.) in employment, educational programs and activities, admissions and financial aid. This includes a prohibition against sexual harassment and sexual violence as mandated by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. This policy is located at <http://www.clemson.edu/campus-life/campus-services/access/title-ix/>. Mrs. Alesia Smith is the Clemson University Title IX Coordinator. Her office is located at 912 University Union, 864.656.3181.
