JOIN OUR TEAM

The Clemson University Police Department provides an opportunity to serve at one of the nation’s premier universities in the beautiful Upstate of South Carolina and be a part of something greater than one’s self. Working with us is a commitment to serve and protect students, faculty, staff, alumni and visitors who make Clemson unique and special. We value leadership, integrity, honor, respect and accountability as the foundation of our work. Earning the title of Clemson University police officer allows you to make more than just a living — you can make a difference!

If a challenging environment appeals to your personal values and career aspirations, we want you on our team.
The CUPD affords officers many opportunities to develop their careers. With resources such as the university's college incentive program and the department's in-service training, officers can compete for promotional positions. All promotions are merit-based as determined by a competitive promotional process administered by the department.

Several specialized positions in the department are available to qualified officers as openings occur. There are specialized positions in the following units: Central Investigations, Crime Prevention, Cyber Incident Response Team, K-9 and Traffic.

The Clemson University Police Department has an authorized staff of 63 employees (47 sworn and 16 professional staff).

If you are interested in learning more about becoming a member of our growing team, please email the commander of Professional Development and Training, Lt. Christopher Harrington, at harrin4@clemson.edu.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Mission
To enhance safety, reduce risk and prevent harm from affecting the Clemson University community.

Vision
An organization setting the standard of excellence in law enforcement through integrity, compassion, service before self and honor above all.

Collaborate with university partners to create a safe and secure campus through education, community service and strategic enforcement.

Utilize innovative technology, specialized training, community policing strategies and strong partnerships to enhance the university living and learning environment.

Create an environment that champions the success and well-being of our students, faculty, staff and visitors through professionalism and a commitment to service. Foster a climate of trust and respect through a commitment to diversity, equity and procedural justice principles.

Core Values
Honor, Integrity, Courage, Inclusion, Respect

ELIGIBILITY
Candidates must meet the following hiring requirements:
— Be at least 21 years of age.
— Be a U.S. citizen.
