Membership in the Clemson Legacy Society is accorded to donors who document that they have remembered Clemson in their wills or through other forms of estate planning. It was through his will that Mr. Clemson created what we know and love today as Clemson University. From the inception of the idea for Clemson, deferred gifts have been critical to its success. In addition to receiving a personalized, matted and framed calligraphy print of excerpts from the Clemson will, embossed with a wax seal embossed with Mr. Clemson's own signet ring, members of the Clemson Legacy Society are invited to enter their signatures into the Clemson Legacy Registry, a handsome, archival, leather-bound book that will serve as a record to be treasured and celebrated by all future generations.
