

Director, School of Materials Science and Engineering College of Engineering & Science, Clemson University, Clemson SC

Clemson University invites applications and nominations for the position of Director of the School of Materials Science and Engineering. Clemson University is the land grant institution of South Carolina and is located on Lake Hartwell halfway between Atlanta, GA and Charlotte, NC. The School has an enrollment of over 200 total students, sponsored research programs in excess of $5.8M per year, and active industrial service and continuing education programs.

The Director will be a dynamic, innovative leader and a distinguished scholar who will draw attention to the School's commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and service. He or she will be a proactive partner with materials industry leaders as the School vigorously pursues its service mission, and in the continued pursuit of government and industry funding for research and education. More specifically, the successful candidate will (a) have demonstrated leadership ability, (b) be internationally recognized for funded research in his/her field, (c) have an earned doctorate in a materials related field, and (d) qualifications for appointment as a full professor with tenure.

Guaranteed consideration will be given to applications received by November 1, 2011. Although it is expected that the position will be filled for the start of the 2012-2013 academic year, the search will continue until a suitable candidate is found.

Further details about the School are available at <http://mse.clemson.edu>.

Qualified women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Submission materials should include a letter of application briefly highlighting how the above characteristics are met, and a complete CV including list of publications and the names of three references. Send applications to Dr. Stephen Foulger, Search and Screen Committee Chair, Clemson University, 161 Surrin Hall Clemson, SC 29670. Electronic submissions required (mse\_search@clemson.edu).
