2200 Pocket Road | Florence | SC | www.strictlyrunning.com

This run/walk takes runners on a scenic course along Dargan's Pond and throughout Clemson University's PD Research and Education Center. It is centered around one of the most beautiful but tucked away places in South Carolina. Trees covered in Spanish Moss, a breathtaking pond, and wildlife around every turn. The race will be chip timed and there will also be pictures taken as runners cross the finish line! It is a trail race, but the trail is mostly packed, free of roots etc., and is also wide.

The race is held in conjunction with the Clemson Rural Science and History Day at Clemson University's PD Research and Education Center in Florence, SC. The event is a great opportunity to see local farmers and crafters present their Pee Dee products. Following the run, you are welcome to stay for the festival (free of charge) and experience everything from blacksmiths to local cuisine.

Proceeds from the race will benefit The Jonathan Foundation for teens. The foundation helps teens with mental illness through education, testing, referral, support services, outreach efforts, and research support of the Juvenile Bipolar Research Foundation.
