COURSE DESCRIPTION

The primary objective of sophomore literature is to provide you with the skills necessary to perform close reading of texts in a variety of genres, including poetry, essays, novels, short stories, and creative nonfiction. The importance of reading closely is emphasized and necessary for daily discussion. You will become more confident in your abilities to analyze literature, both formally (e.g., in written essays) and informally (e.g., discussions).

This course focuses on literary works that explore the dynamics, ironies, and complicated socioeconomic and cultural histories embodied in the South. We will read works by iconic Southern authors such as Carson McCullers and Flannery O'Connor, but will largely focus on recent literature, including novels, short stories, and essays by David Joy, Jesmyn Ward, J.C. Sasser, Rhonda White, and others, and poetry by Nikky Finny, Terrance Hayes, Ray McManus, Annie Woodford, Adrien Blevins, Natasha Trethewey, and others. In addition to practicing their writing craft, students will complete creative projects (videos, Spark pages, and more) using Adobe technologies.

Additionally, this class is participating in Clemson's "CT2" campus-wide Quality Enhancement Plan to target undergraduate critical thinking, an invaluable skill for you to strengthen during your college career (employers highly value this skill!). We will focus on consciously practicing critical thinking skills throughout the semester: in our discussions, reflections, presentations, and projects. As part of this effort, you will complete two versions of the California Critical Thinking Skills Test (CCTST) and submit an artifact (one of our three projects) as a measure of mastery of critical thinking skills.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS: In meeting the requirements of this course, you will demonstrate competencies in three University general education areas, including:

- Arts & Humanities: Demonstrate an understanding of the arts and humanities in historical and cultural contexts;
- Communications: Effective oral and written communication is the means by which all competencies will be demonstrated; and
- Critical Thinking: Demonstrate the ability to assemble information relevant to a significant, complex issue, evaluate the quality and utility of the information, and use the outcome of the analysis to reach a logical conclusion about the issue.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

(INCLUSIVE OF CRITICAL THINKING SKILLS):

1. You will read, critically review, and analyze a variety of literature that transcends historical periods and genres. Within discussions and assignments related to these readings, you will explore complex challenges and analyze multi-dimensional issues.
2. You will identify, critically reflect upon, and articulate the cultural relevance for the texts analyzed (not only within the cultures in which the texts were written or written about, but also how the themes and philosophies in the texts permeate our contemporary culture).
3. You will strengthen your writing craft through reflection in informal written assignments, as well as in formal academic papers. You will communicate complex ideas effectively through both oral and written analyses.
4. You will apply your knowledge of the text and its cultural context to a new media and/or creative project, wherein you will extrapolate from one complex conceptual context to another.
5. You will collaborate and converse with peers. This requires you to work together to close read and analyze literary texts and articulate the group's collective response to a text.

In-class quizzes, writings, and discussions, as well as individual papers, projects and presentations, and a final exam are used as the measure of mastery of these learning objectives.

COURSE CONTENT

We will use the online learning management system, Canvas, for our course. Assignments, rubrics, expectations, grades, and absences are recorded in Canvas. You are expected to check Canvas and thoroughly read assignments, rubrics, and expectations there.

1. Required Text Reading: You will have daily reading assignments, as indicated on the course schedule at the end of this syllabus. We will be on a rigorous reading schedule! Be sure to have thoroughly read the text prior to the date it is due on the schedule. You will have daily reading quizzes to test that you have read the material.

Please note you must purchase the following books (all available in cheap paperback versions). All other readings will be provided on our Canvas page (or as a link from our Canvas page):

Books You Need to Purchase:

1. Sing, Unburied, Sing by Jesmyn Ward, 9781501126079
2. The Line That Held Us by David Joy, 9780425280287
3. The Lightness of Water by Rhonda Browning White, 9781950413072
4. Gradle Bird by J.C. Sasser, 9781633932630

Additionally, we will read and discuss poetry and nonfiction essays by various authors. These will be provided via Canvas link or printouts in class.

2. In-class Writing and Quizzes: You will participate in daily in-class quizzes to test that you are reading the material: typically 5 questions, 20 points each. Some days, you will participate in writing exercises related to our reading. I will offer a question or prompt, and you are to reflect and respond in a thoughtful way. These will be used to test your knowledge of the reading material and often to jumpstart our classroom discussion. Be sure to always bring your laptops to complete these quizzes and writing responses! No makeups are allowed; do not ask.

3. Papers and Projects: You will complete three projects (one of which must be a paper) during the course of this class. In addition to several in-class essays and a substantial paper, you will choose two other projects to complete based upon your interests. Some of these projects may be used as CT2 artifacts, showing how your critical thinking skills have strengthened in the class.

Paper Options:

1. Comparative 1000-Word Essay Assignment: write a novel thesis and supportive essay comparing two of our literary works
2. 1000-Word Essay Assignment: write a novel thesis and supportive essay about an aspect of interest from a literary work

Project Options:

1. Creative Project Assignment: choose a creative outlet through which to interpret and extrapolate a literary text. This may include original art, video, podcast, music, etc. Project must be significant in scope and professionally rendered.
2. Infographic Assignment: create an original infographic about a literary text
3. Spark Page Assignment: create an original Spark page that focuses on a theme, historical event/person, or cultural connection made to a literary text

4. Final Exam: The final exam will be cumulative for the entire semester and include short identification/discussion questions and an essay.

5. Class Participation: As this class is participatory by nature—meaning each class will involve class discussion and active participation—you are expected to actively participate by speaking, doing class work, and working collaboratively. Simply showing up and being present will earn a C.

- An A grade reflects active participation, contributing to the class conversation almost every class session, being present, and actively participating.
- A B grade is to be expected if you semi-regularly contribute to discussions and/or actively participate.
- If you show up but do not talk/actively participate, you will remain at a C for class participation.
- If you consistently do not contribute to conversations, are on your phone, leave class, and/or participate in any other disruptive activity, you can expect a D for class participation.

Behaviors that affect participation grades:

- Excessive absences and/or tardies
- Sleeping in class
- Leaving the classroom excessively
- PHONES/Social Media/Texting
- Doing other class work in this class
- Being disrespectful to me or to peers

GRADES AND FEEDBACK

Grades and feedback are provided generally one week after the assignment is turned in (papers tend to take two weeks, sorry.). Unless otherwise stated, grades and feedback will be available on Canvas. If ever you need to discuss your grade with me, send me an email to set up a time to talk or come see me during office hours.

GRADING POLICY:

Final semester grades will be determined based upon the following:

In-class quizzes and writing:	= 30%
Class Participation:	= 15%
Papers and Projects:	= 40%
CT2 Test Participation	= 1%
Final Exam:	= 14%
TOTAL	= 100%

A = 90-100
B = 80-89
C = 70-79
D = 60-69
F = 59 or less

NOTE* I will not round up to the next point bracket. I will not add additional points to your grade for any reason. Grades must be earned.

CLASS POLICIES

Absences: You are allowed a maximum of four absences. I do not distinguish between excused and unexcused. For every absence over the maximum, your final grade will be reduced by one letter grade per absence (i.e., You have 6 absences, so the highest possible grade you could make in the class is a C.). There are several compelling reasons for your attendance. One, this class is participatory by nature; absences affect the wellbeing of the entire class. Two, assignments will be explained in class. Three, missing class sessions is likely to put you very far behind, not only in your comprehension of the texts, but also in your grades. And, four, this class will be fun, and you will be totally missing out. With that said, please note: I WILL NOT drop any assignment, writing, or quiz grades. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to get class notes, etc., from a fellow classmate. Do NOT email me asking what you missed in class; rather, contact a classmate. Missed in-class writing exercises, quizzes, and assignments cannot be made up, so be mindful of attendance. If you know you will miss more than this maximum amount off the bat, this class may not be for you.

Weather Cancellations: Any exam that was scheduled at the time of a class cancellation due to inclement weather will be given at the next class meeting unless contacted by the instructor. Any assignments due at the time of a class cancellation due to inclement weather will be due at the next class meeting unless contacted by the instructor. Any extension or postponement of assignments or exams must be granted by the instructor via email or Canvas within 24 hours of the weather related cancellation.

Electronic Devices: Laptops, iPads, Kindles, etc., are allowed in class, as some of your readings are available online and you must have your laptop to complete in-class quizzes and writing assignments. These devices should only be used for coursework. Cell phones should be turned off and put away while in class. If you choose to use any device for texting, Twitter, Facebook, Pinterest, or any other online activity during class, your class participation grade will reflect this. (And I will call you out during class.)

Collaborative Work: Collaborative work is a required component of this course. Students are expected to work collaboratively by participating vigorously in discussions to contribute to the intellectual climate of the classroom. Our class is primarily based upon discussion, so you are expected to talk a lot in this class. Failure to do so will be reflected in your class participation grade. Further, students will participate in group projects and/or class sessions, and each person's ability to collaborate within the group is vital.

Late Work: Assignments must be ready, proofed, and turned in on their due dates. If you elect to turn in an assignment late, it will be marked down one grade per day late, up to four days. After four days, the grade will be recorded as zero. Missed in-class writing exercises, quizzes, and assignments cannot be made up, so be mindful of attendance. AND DO NOT ASK.

Waiting: If I am not in class 10 minutes after our start time, you may leave.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES

In addition to the policies as stated above, this class will adhere to the following:

- All assignments are due at the beginning of class or by their due date on Canvas. Hand in all assignments to the instructor, and/or upload to Canvas as indicated. Do NOT leave an assignment on my desk, under my door, in my box, etc.
- Consistent attendance, punctuality and active participation are expected. If you have a serious and compelling reason for absences, please speak with me in private. In-class activities may not be made up. DO NOT ASK.
- All assignments must be word-processed. Handwritten assignments WILL NOT be accepted unless indicated.
- If you have any issues or questions about your grade, these must be discussed within a week of receiving said grade. Do NOT wait until the end of the semester to do so.
