WILBUR O. AND ANN POWERS
COLLEGE OF BUSINESS
LIVING-LEARNING COMMUNITIES

The Wilbur O. and Ann Powers College of Business Living-Learning Communities strive to foster a living environment that stimulates learning, engagement and collaboration among our students, faculty and staff. The LLCs connect students with common interests to campus and the Clemson community, while broadening their global perspective and affording opportunities to develop friendships and memories that will last a lifetime.

Business Living-Learning Communities Include:

- CUBS – open to all Business School majors, first-year freshmen only
- Army ROTC – open to Army ROTC students only
- Air Force ROTC – open to Air Force ROTC students only

“My favorite part of CUBS was all the supplemental academic support I was provided.”

Emmala Alfaro
CUBS is open to all first-year freshmen within the Wilbur O. and Ann Powers College of Business. We want to help students achieve their educational and career goals while forming lasting friendships that will carry them through their college experience and beyond.

The program is housed in the new Douthit Hills Building E, where students will attend Business 1010 classes and be in close proximity to The Hub. The Hub features a bookstore, market, Starbucks and CUPD substation on the first floor. The second floor houses recreation space including a state-of-the-art workout facility. A Smokehouse BBQ, Fusion Cafe, Garden Pizzeria, and Fresh Market and seating for 450 are all featured on the third floor of The Hub.

WHAT TO EXPECT

- Access to grouped courses with other CUBS students, featuring smaller class sizes
- Social events
- Peer mentorships
- Networking opportunities
- Professional development seminars
- Community service activities
- Extended access to academic advisors and more!

DID YOU KNOW?

On average, CUBS GPAs are higher than other first-year students in the Wilbur O. and Ann Powers College of Business.

ROTC LLCs provide a means for successfully easing first-year students into the ROTC programs, supporting them as they transition to college life and providing a vital social and professional support network. Community members help prepare and motivate one another to achieve greater physical fitness levels, campus involvement and skills to enable academic success. The community produces a critical network of peers who will assist each other throughout their Clemson and military careers.

DID YOU KNOW?
Throughout the academic year cadets often participate in:

- Outdoor adventure trips and outings to Clemson’s high ropes courses
- Weekly labs where cadets hone their physical fitness, stamina, leadership and coordination skills
- Parents’ Day events
- Joint Military Appreciation Day at Frank Howard Stadium
- ROTC sponsored guest speaking events where members of the military share their experiences and advice
- Memorial Program for POWs and MIAs
- Military movie nights

“Army ROTC LLC helped me make connections right away with students that I had the same interests and beliefs with. The older cadets, as well as some of my own classmates, living nearby has helped greatly when I needed advice.”

– Yousuke Matsui, Air Force ROTC

“We all have the end goal of wanting to become officers within the Air Force, and we all bonded really quick because we all wanted to help each other succeed and achieve our goals.”

– Rollins Jolly, Army ROTC
