ANIMAL & VETERINARY SCIENCE IN EUROPE
MAY 8 – 19, 2019 (12 DAYS)

HEIDELBERG • STRASBOURG • PARIS

Are you interested in experiencing animal and veterinary science in a global setting? Our program expands on classroom instruction through international lectures at animal care facilities in Germany and France. You will gain awareness of alternative farming techniques while appreciating diversity and sustainability. This international opportunity will help prepare students for the global workforce.

Excursions include a farmer producer association, poultry farm, dog breeder, sheep farm, foie gras producer, beef farm, pharmacy museum, and veterinary school.

PROGRAM PRICE: $4,806

CLEMSON TUITION $2,828
PROGRAM FEE $1,978

Not included in the price: Individual airfare, 8 lunches, 8 dinners, passport fees, and personal expenses

WHAT’S INCLUDED:
• Clemson University summer tuition for 4 credit hours
• Study abroad fees
• Lodging (2 students per room with private bath)
• Excursions and tours
• Ground travel (private bus, rail, metro)
• Breakfast daily, 2 lunches, 2 dinners
• Insurance

APPLY BY: December 1, 2018

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION:
Dr. Heather Dunn, walkerd@clemson.edu
#123 P&A building