

MACTS FACTS

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR
AUGUST 2019
MACTS GRADUATES
GRAY LEE, JONNY SUTHERLAND,
& EMILY ARNSON!

Bailey Troutman, MACTS '20, has been accepted to present her research with Dr. Greg Cranmer at the National Communication Association annual meeting this November in Baltimore. "Social Media Discourse about Division-I Football Players' Announcements of Early Exit: The Role of Expressed Fandom" also won Top Paper in the Communication & Sport Division.

Welcome to our new Clemson MACTS students:
Lauren Andrews, Toni Baraka, Hannah Chumley, Elaine Day, Holly Deal,
McKinley DuRant, Raven Furber, Sam Goodman, Sai Datta Mikkilineni,
Patrick Noe, Kelsea Schulenberg,
Janeth Sierra-Rivera, Mackenzie Smith, Tanisha Tak,
Raine Templeton-Bradley, and Madison Wilson!

Joseph Fontana, MACTS '20, has been accepted to present his research with Dr. Greg Cranmer at the National Communication Association annual meeting this November in Baltimore. "Next Person Up": Understanding Collegiate Student-Athletes' Socialization Experiences with Teammate Exit," by Joseph L. Fontana, Gregory A. Cranmer, and Michael Sollitto, has also been published in the journal Communication and Sport.

Contact us on social media: Clemson MACTS or ClemsonMACTS
Email inquiries to: Dr. Travers Scott, Director of Graduate Studies (dscott3@clemson.edu)
Come for a visit and tour the campus! Applications are due March 1st!

CLEMSON UNIVERSITY'S MA IN COMMUNICATION, TECHNOLOGY & SOCIETY

The Communication Center and Research Lab has moved to the Watt Family Innovation Center!

New Position Announcements

- Gray Lee, MACTS 2019, has accepted a position as a Community Event Coordinator with AETNA Health Insurance in Kentucky, working specifically with the Medicare population.
- Evan Lybrand, MACTS 2019, is now working with the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health program of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. He has joined their Health Communication group in the National Personal Protective Technology Laboratory in Philadelphia.
- Cody Norris, MACTS 2019, has begun as the Lead Engagement Ambassador for Hilton with iResponse.
- Madeline Blair, MACTS 2013, is now Senior Proposal Coordinator in Business Development for AECOM's Management Services Nuclear and Environment Sector.
- Alexander Moe, Ph.D, MACTS 2014, has accepted a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor in the Department of Journalism, Broadcasting & Public Relations at the College of Brockport, State University of New York.
- Amanda Moore, MACTS 2016, is now Senior Manager of Integrated Marketing and Partnerships at Loggerhead Marinelifelife Center in West Palm Beach, Florida. Previously Amanda was a Lecturer and Associate Director of the Social Media Listening Center in Clemson's Department of Communication.

Melissa Jacobs, MACTS 2017, is the Inaugural Member-at-Large for the Professional Wrestling Studies Association.

You can read her latest article here:

<https://www.clydefitchreport.com/2019/02/professional-wrestling-theater/>