

A scientist walks into a bar...

» WHAT

Science on Tap is a forum where people come to learn about and discuss recent discoveries in science and technology while having fun! An expert will give an informal talk for 20 – 30 minutes, followed by Q&A and discussion. Attendees can get up, eat or refresh their beverages at any time. Science on Tap is FREE and open to all ages!

» WHEN

Science on Tap is held from 6:30 – 7:45 p.m. the last Tuesday of each month.

» WHERE

Coffee Underground– 1 E. Coffee St.

Sponsored by Clemson University College of Science, the Clemson University Life Sciences Outreach Center, Furman University Office of Integrative Research in the Sciences and Coffee Underground.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

-  clemson.edu/culsoc
-  facebook.com/ScienceonTapUpstate
-  Cathy Brooks at cbrook8@clemson.edu

» UPCOMING MEETINGS

March 26

ANATOMY OF AN OPERATING ROOM

A discussion of a four-year journey undertaken by a team from Clemson and MUSC to study the ambulatory operating room and develop a human-centered prototype along with best practices for the design of these spaces.

- » David Allison, School of Architecture, Clemson University

April 30

SELF-HEALING MATERIALS

Explore how to design materials that can recover from injuries in real time.

- » Marek W. Urban, Department of Materials Science and Engineering, Clemson University

May 28

DOUBLE DIPPING AND OTHER DISGUSTING HABITS

- » Paul Dawson, Department of Food, Nutrition, and Packaging Sciences, Clemson University

June 25

THE SCIENCE OF DREAMS

A discussion of the latest research on why and how we dream.

- » Erin Wamsley, Department of Psychology, Furman University