

NATIONAL WRITING PROJECT
— in the South —

Our Conference is going VIRTUAL!
April 24, 2021

The conference is FREE, but registration is required

Register Now

<https://tinyurl.com/3muznutn>

Writing for Change through Empathy and Engagement

Join us for sessions, conversations, idea sharing, and site strategies. This is a great day for site leaders and teachers to come together and learn from each other.

Featuring Keynote speakers Nicole Mirra, Brad Campbell, and music with Chris Goering!

Nicole Mirra

Assistant Professor of Urban Education
Graduate School of Education
Rutgers University
Author of Educating for Empathy

*I Hesitate but I Do Have Hope: Critical
Civic Empathy in Troubled Times*

Brad Campbell

Interventionist and ESL Specialist
White Pine County School District
Ely, Nevada

Cultivating Empathic Writers through Authentic Research Pedagogies

Chris Goering

Professor of English Education
The University of Arkansas
Director, Northwest Arkansas
Writing Project

For the Sake of Students: Integrating Songwriting in Your Curriculum

For more information

outreach.olemiss.edu/writing_project/nat_wp_south_conf.html

We are a part of the National Writing
Project network.

