Subject: 2024 Clemson Bull Test Nominations

The 2024 Clemson University Bull Test season will be here before we know it. With that in mind, please study the rules and regulations for consideration of consignment. Rules and regulations are listed below. We will again be utilizing our GrowSafe 6000 system to measure individual feed intake and calculate relative efficiency of individual bulls. Below you will find the calendar and requirements for bulls. The nomination form, and health certificate form can be found on the website as a separate document. Nomination deadlines are set early enough to give consignors time to receive official notification of pre-test acceptance or rejection of their bulls before going to the expense of persistent BVD test (all bulls) and health papers (CVI, out of state bulls).

As a reminder, some changes were made for last year's test. We added that DNA Genomics are to be done prior to delivery and signed registration papers due upon delivery. Consigned bulls are to be free of all known genetic defects specific to their respective breed registry.

In the past we have asked for bull to have their eID tag in the left ear, this year we are asking that all bulls have 840 HDX ear tag in right ear upon arrival to bull test station.

Early Nomination Deadline – Wednesday, June 26, 2023 (offered to anyone who has consigned bulls to the Clemson test in the past 2 years)

A screening committee will have final say on "elite brand " eligibility. Meeting minimum performance elite brand criteria does not constitute automatic branding.

III. General Rules

1. All bulls must complete the test unless removed by the test manager for sickness, injury, or bad disposition.
2. Consignors may not withdraw bulls before completion of the test for any reason.
3. Upon completion of the test, a breeder may withhold bulls from his consignment to take home. Notification of withholding must be given by the off-test date. Also bulls who do not make required performance minimums and are not sale eligible, must be picked up after the final weigh period within TWO WEEKS. Bulls that are left after the two-week period will be charged for full post-test expenses.
4. If a consignor withdraws a cataloged bull before or on sale day or no sales a bull, they will still be charged all sale expenses for that bull. Bulls that are sale eligible and cataloged but fail BSE's will be charged sale cost for advertising and catalog but will not be charged for actual sale day expenses to include arena expenses/auctioneer or ring help.
5. Liability -Each bull is the property and responsibility of the consignor until sold, at which time the new owner shall assume full responsibility and liability for said bull. While all reasonable care will be taken, neither the management, Clemson University nor its Board of Trustees, officers, agents, employees, volunteers, or representatives assume responsibility for any injury, damage or loss of bulls.
6. Insurance -If consignors want their bulls insured while at the test station, they must do so on their own and at their own expense. The test station and Clemson University DO NOT insure bulls.
7. Minimum Sale Price – A minimum sale price of $2000 has been set on each bull. Bulls that do not bring the minimum price will be “no sales”. Consignors must pick up their “no sale” bulls after the sale or pay to have the test manager to maintain and ship the bulls directly to slaughter the following week. "No Sale" bulls that are cataloged and go through the ring will be charged full sales cost.

IV. Fees & Costs

1. Nomination Fee - The nomination fee is NOT applied to test cost. If a breeder fails to deliver a consigned bull, the nomination fee will be forfeited. If a bull is rejected prior to or at delivery, the nomination fee will be refunded. The nomination fee is used to maintain test station infrastructure throughout the year and across years.
2. Nomination fee checks should be made payable to: Clemson University.
3. Entry Fee -This will be applied toward test costs. Entry fee checks should be made payable to: Clemson University.
4. Test Costs -Test costs are prorated equally among bulls.
