

Laurens County Clemson Extension Advisory Council Scholarship Program

The Laurens County Clemson Extension Advisory Council Scholarship is to be awarded to a high school senior from Laurens County who has some current and/or future interest in agriculture. Applications will be reviewed and the scholarship recipient will be selected by the Advisory Council.

The recipient should be selected by the Laurens County Clemson Extension Advisory Council before the annual Laurens County Spotlight on Agriculture Awards Program held in March. The recipient will be given three tickets to the banquet and encouraged to attend to be publicly honored.

Payment of the scholarship will be made by the current Advisory Council treasurer to the college or vocational school that the student will be attending just prior to the start of school or soon thereafter. The student will be responsible for making this information known to the Laurens County Extension Office.

The issued check shall be cancelled in the event that the recipient is unable to attend college during the fall semester of the year that the scholarship is awarded.

Applications MUST be complete to be considered.
