

4-H CHICK EMBRYOLOGY AGREEMENT

Thank you for your interest in the SC 4-H Chick Embryology Project. I understand that all materials and equipment are the property of Clemson Cooperative Extension of York County. At the completion of this project all equipment must be returned clean and in operating condition. A representative from each school must pick up and return all materials and supplies unless otherwise noted. The chicks that hatch as a result of this program are considered the borrowed property of York County Cooperative Extension and will be picked up from the site, along with the remaining supplies.

Incubators are distributed on a first come first serve basis, based on payment date. Payment is due prior to the release of materials. Fees are non-refundable. Checks can be made out to Clemson University. Please indicate 4-H Embryology in the memo line of the check.

If there is a request for the placement of the chicks, please voice that request at the beginning of the program to the program coordinator. These requests will be taken into consideration and investigated by the staff; however, there is no guarantee, and authorization must also be received by the specific individual(s) who would receive the chicks.
