Membership

The Walker Course at Clemson University is an 18-hole championship golf course winding through graceful rolling hills and hardwood forests. The course offers a full-service Pro Shop, Clubhouse Grill, chipping green, bunker area and putting greens. The Walker Course is part of the University's Conference Center and Inn, and is home to the University's men's and women's golf teams.

Golf Course Amenities

- PGA golf professionals are on hand for group lessons, clinics and individual instruction. The course is open year-round for public play and golf outings.
- The course measures 6,911 yards from the Tiger tees and a very playable 5,934 yards from the white tees.
- The design accommodates golfers of all skill levels, and the course is fully accessible by ADA guidelines.
- The last five holes, including the signature Tiger Paw hole, run along the shores of Hartwell Lake for one of the most spectacular collections of finishing holes in the Southeast.

Clemson Young Alumni Associate Membership Criteria

Qualifications

1. Must be a graduate of Clemson University
2. Must be under the age of 35 as of the application date

Process for Applicants

Submit a membership application and two separate checks.

- One check is payable to the Clemson University Foundation.
- The second check is payable to The Walker Course at Clemson University.

Upon verification of age and graduation, and after approval of the application, membership dues will be billed monthly at the same rate as current nonresident members.

Clemson young alumni associate members shall pay the same monthly dues as nonresident member classifications until the month of their 35th birthday. At that time, dues will be adjusted based on current residence status and family or single membership declaration.

Benefits of membership are the same for all membership classifications. All membership classifications and dues structures are subject to change with advance notice given. Young alumni associate applicants will be given “gift credits” for donation to the Clemson University Foundation in the amount of the check submitted.
